

White Christmas rescheduled to December 15

The White Christmas program was started in the early 1900s by the Falmouth Women's Club. The purpose was to help families in the community during the holiday season. In 2012 the Falmouth Rotary Club decided to continue this tradition.

The community is invited to come together again at 7 p.m. on Sunday evening, December 15. The service will involve area choirs and participation from local churches.

Don't miss this! Time and date again are 7 p.m., December 15 at Falmouth Baptist Church.

KRT's Christmas production is "It's a Wonderful Life"

Looking for something special to do with your family this holiday season? Kincaid Regional Theatre's Christmas production is It's a Wonderful Life the musical. You can catch their next evening performance on December 13, 14, 20, 21, 26, and 27. Matinee performances at 2 p.m. will be December 15, and 27.

Come enjoy the beautiful talents these performers do. The theatre is located at 500 S. Chapel Street in Falmouth. You can go online to order tickets at: www.krtshow.com, or call (859) 654-2636 or toll free (800) 647-SHOW (7469).

Winter Coat Drive

Deluxe Cleaners, Falmouth, in cooperation with both the South Family and North Family Resource Centers, will be conducting a coat drive for local children and adults.

Deluxe Cleaners will be accepting new and gently used coats beginning Tuesday, December 10 through Friday, December 20. Coats can be dropped off on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays between the hours of 7 a.m.-5 p.m., and Wednesdays and Saturdays from 7 a.m.-noon.

When dropping off new or gently used coats, please place them in a tied plastic bag.

Head-on collision with bus sends man to hospital

Pendleton County Chief Deputy Sheriff Todd Dennie investigated a two-vehicle injury accident on U.S. 27 near the bottom of Bethel Hill on Thursday, December 5. According to police reports, Leonard Brown, 45, Falmouth, operating a 1990 GM pick-up truck, was traveling north just after 8 a.m. when he started into a curve coming down the hill. He stated that he turned the steering wheel but the vehicle went straight. Brown crossed both lanes and struck a Pendleton County school bus head-on that was traveling south. The driver of the bus, Marilyn Pugh, 49, Falmouth, told police that she saw the vehicle coming towards her and tried to avoid it by getting over as far as she could. The bus scraped the guardrail but was still unable to avoid the collision. There were no students on the bus at the time of the accident. The Falmouth Fire Department, Pendleton County Ambulance, and other members of the Pendleton County Sheriff's Office responded to the scene. Firefighters helped to extricate Brown from his vehicle who was then transported to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Brown's vehicle suffered very severe damage while the bus sustained moderate damage. Rodney Miles Towing removed the wreckage from the scene. The roadway was reopened at 9:22 a.m. Photo by Jackie Vaughn.

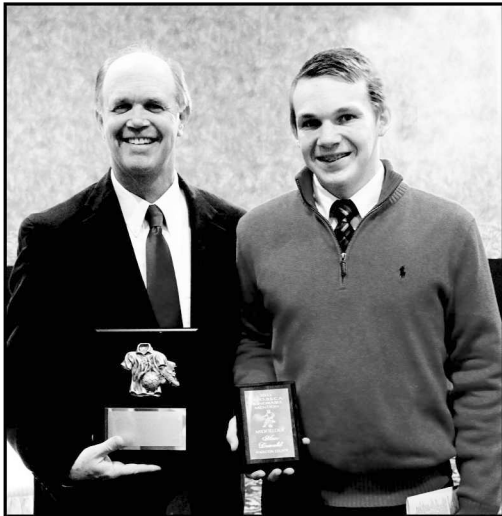

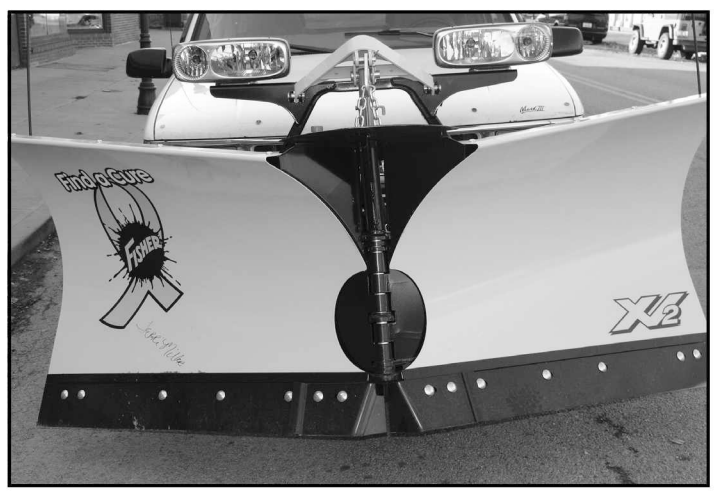

Pink snow plow ready to "Plow For A Cause"

Brian Crouch has something that no one else has and you can stop by the Bank of Kentucky starting at 9 a.m. and throughout the day on Friday, December 13 to see this unique pretty pink snow plow!

"Brian has teamed up with the Bank of Kentucky in Falmouth," says Assistant Manager Terri Miller. They will be giving all donations to the Susan B. Komen For the Cure organization. This organization fights to find a cure for breast cancer.

Crouch entered a drawing and won the plow. He will have the pink snow plow at the bank and you can sign the plow and give a donation.

Miller also added that the bank will be having a couple of raffles that day so don't forget to come inside to enter.

Wildcat Soccer senior Max Dewald joins former Wildcat soccer coach Tony Bentley. Max was honored for his selection as NKY Honorable Mention Team. Coach Bentley was inducted into the NKY Boys Soccer Hall of Fame. He is sixth on the NKY Boys Soccer Coaching win list with 124 victories.

Bentley inducted into NKY Boys Soccer Hall of Fame

In 1985, there was no Wildcat Soccer program history. They were in their first year of play and most in Pendleton County knew little to none about the European game of football called soccer.

Almost 30 years later and coach Tony Bentley's fingerprints are all over the Wildcat Soccer program record books and history.

He started that first team in 1985 and 124 victories over 18 years later, he stands as the Family in need of help from community

A local family lost everything they had in a fire last Wednesday evening, December 4 in Falmouth in the 500 block. The apartment building sits next to the railroad tracks on the east end of town. Fire broke out in the apartment building around 8 p.m. and the building was heavily damaged.

One of the families lost everything they had. They have a little girl. This community is a giving community and the family desperately needs help.

Clothing sizes are: man 32" X 32", medium shirt size, shoes size 8. Ladies 7 pants, medium shirt and shoes size 7. Little girl is 5 pants, 6 shirts and size 9 shoes.

They can also use any kind of furniture that anyone can give. Beds, blankets, toiletries, etc.

Both the parents work at El Paso Restaurant in Falmouth. Please bring any donations you can give to the El Paso Restaurant. Your giving and help will surely be greatly appreciated.

Butler Christmas Parade rolls through town

The weather didn't stop the Butler Christmas Parade from making its way through the streets of the town on Saturday, December 7. There was a nice turnout and the cold, snowy conditions added to the holiday atmosphere for those who came out to watch and take part in the festivities. Pictured above: Butler Mayor Alice Smith poses with the city of Butler's float which was fitting for the day. It featured a snowman and Santa's little helpers on a blanket of snow. Melvin Hart Memorial Toy Drive

The South Family Resource Center is teaming up this year with the Melvin Hart Memorial Toy Drive which is sponsored by the Falmouth Christian Church. This partnership will allow them to serve the maximum number of families with twice the number of volunteers.

Since merging two existing programs, there will be some changes in the way assistance is provided. As in years past, the program only served children ages 12 and under. Families who sign up for assistance will receive a box of toys for each child on their list on the pick up day. These toys will not be wrapped as they have in years past so please plan accordingly if you are bringing your children with you.

Christmas assistance sign up deadline is December 17, 2013. When signing up, please provide parents name, address, phone number, children's TOYS Page 3

Firefighters battle apartment building fire

Falmouth firefighters and numerous other emergency personnel were dispatched around 8:15 p.m. Wednesday, December 4 to the scene of an apartment building fire on West Shelby Street near the railroad crossing in Falmouth. According to Falmouth Fire Chief David Marquardt, the blaze is believed to have originated in a first floor apartment near the rear of the building and worked its way up to the second floor. Firefighters were quick to respond and able to contain the fire to two apartments although the building and other rooms suffered heavy smoke damage. Alexandria and Southern Campbell fire departments assisted at the scene with aerial ladders due to fire spreading into the attic of the structure. The building is owned by Cliff Wallace and has six apartments. Several families are displaced at this time. The cause of the blaze is unknown and under investigation by the state fire marshal and insurance company. The building is not believed to be a total loss. A dog and two cats were lost in the blaze. Other emergency personnel assisting at the scene included: Northern Pendleton Fire Department, Falmouth Police Department, Pendleton County Sheriff's Office, KSP, VIPS, Pendleton County Ambulance Services, Red Cross, city of Falmouth Utilities and Pendleton County Emergency Management. Dry Ridge and Eastern Campbell County fire departments were put on standby while CSX was alerted to proceed with caution when traveling through the area. Photo by Jackie Vaughn.

RUBY BAUMGARTNER SIMPSON

Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The purpose of life is not to be happy. It is to be useful, to be honorable, to be compassionate, to have it make some difference that you have lived and lived well." Ruby Baumgartner Simpson was a perfect example of a life well lived. Ruby was called home to be with our Lord on Friday, November 29, 2013.

Ruby was a cornerstone of not only her immediate community in the Turner Ridge area, but a vital member of the Pendleton County community as a whole and a longtime member of Falmouth Christian Church. Her sincere concern for each person she met was evident. One of the quietest pillars of strength wherever she was, she truly flourished in any environment of which she was a member. The significant number of young lives she touched through her tireless work with the Pendleton County Homemakers' Club; assisting wherever and however she could with countless Pendleton County Youth Clubs; assisting in and out of the classroom, kitchen and crafts associated with Bible Schools ensuring her children - all of those in the community, that is, were provided with the opportunity for spiritual growth and development, endless hours spent working with her church families being a living example of Christ and selfless love and compassion; and, her passion which was home-making and providing a warm inviting home for everyone she knew. No one ever just walked into Ruby's house, you were made a member of the family and welcomed home each and every time you stopped by.

That love of God, community and extended family allowed a significant number of youth especially, to be given an extra set of parents which Ruby and Earl became to many in the county over the years. To have had no biological children of their own, the many children reared by Ruby and Earl are all the better in their lives and endeavors for having been provided such compassionate, loving examples of how a daily walk with Christ provides the foundation upon which to develop sound character and strong faith to overcome life's hurdles. While well into her 90s, Ruby found such joy in taking homemade candy at Thanksgiving and Christmas to the "elderly" in her community. Those folks were all the way up in their 80s

JAMES "BRYANT" BROWN, 39

James "Bryant" Brown, 39, of Falmouth passed away on Saturday, December 7, 2013, at his home after a long illness.

He was born in Harrison County on September 13, 1974, to Brenda (Kenneth) Abercrombie and the late James Ellis Brown. A 1992 graduate of Pendleton High School, Bryant attended Morehead State University, graduated from Western Kentucky University, and earned his masters degree from the University of Kentucky. He was a district manager with Eli Lilly Pharmaceuticals and a member of the Antioch Mills Christian Church. Bryant was loved by all who knew him, and he touched many lives in his 39 years.

Preceding him death, in addition to his father, were paternal grandparents, Raymond and Anna Brown, and his maternal grandfather, Walter Pete Angell.

Surviving, in addition to mother, are step-father, Kenneth Abercrombie, Falmouth; sister and brother-in-law, Natalie and Ronald Golfman, Falmouth; maternal grandmother, Dorothy Angell, Grant County; nephew, Garret Marshall; niece, Madison Crawford; two step-sisters, Kimberly Short, Newport, Laura Maldonado, Baxley, Ga.; and a host of extended family and friends.

Visitation will be from 5 - 8

Craig and Tom Woofert for that early opportunity and helping build a soccer program along with the likes of David Tackett and Greg Valentine.

His teams were noted by their defense. His 2000 and 2005 teams only allowed 16 goals during the season and his 2002 team allowed 18 goals over the season.

While playing tough, physical defense, his teams were noted by his peers as playing with great sportsmanship as they awarded the 2001 Pendleton County the Ed Lett Sportsmanship Award.

As former rival coach, Bill Simpkins, at Grant County pointed out in his introduction of coach Bentley, "He built and left a program that continues with success today."

Pendleton has added two more regional titles to the tally in 2008 and 2010. The four regional titles ranks second to only Wildcat Golf (5) for the most regional titles by a program in school history.

That's the true mark of a hall of fame coach, builds a program to a point that after they move on, the success continues right on, allowing the student/athletes playing to develop a love for the game of soccer like Tony Bentley did in those early days at Morehead.

sixth winningest coach in NKY Boys Soccer history and is the newest member of the NKY Boys Soccer Hall of Fame.

"I am honored and humbled to be selected," coach Bentley commented during his induction speech. "I owe this to the hundreds of players and the many assistant coaches that have been with me over the years. I am very blessed and lucky to be nominated."

Playing at Morehead State University, coach Bentley learned the game early. The newly-hired PCHS physics teacher took over the fledgling program and passed on his early love and respect for the game to a grateful PC community.

It was only three short years later, 1988, that he had the Wildcats winning the first district title in program history in a tough district that included Highlands. In 1993, he was named the John Toebben Coach of the Year Award.

The success would continue into the new millennium as the 2004 and 2005 Wildcats both won the region title advancing to the state tournament sectionals and claimed his second district title in 2006.

It just wouldn't be Christmas without Marvin Sullivan and his carols

By Debbie Dennie, Editor

I have spent many Christmas seasons here at the office of The Falmouth Outlook and as I ponder back there was always one face we were glad to see. That face was Marvin Sullivan.

Back before Sullivan retired as Pendleton County circuit clerk, he and the girls that worked in the office would take time out of their busy schedules to walk around town singing Christmas carols in the businesses.

When they would come in you knew it was time for the carols. Everyone would drop what they were doing and for a few minutes enjoy the Christmas season. As you looked around the room there were smiles on everyone's face.

Since Sullivan has retired he has had the time to master playing a musical instrument, the harmonica. He brightened our day on St. Patrick's Day with an Irish tune.

First lady Beshear encourages Kentuckians to buy Kentucky products during the holidays

First Lady Jane Beshear encourages Kentuckians to support local businesses and buy Kentucky products this holiday season. To show her support, Mrs. Beshear presented a proclamation at the Kentucky Artisan Center at Berea declaring December "Give a Gift Made In Kentucky" Month.

"Kentuckians don't need to look far for unique and quality gift ideas this Christmas," Mrs. Beshear said. "Across the Commonwealth, there are countless local shops and businesses filled with books, food, art, toys and more. I encourage everyone to purchase Kentucky-made gifts this holiday season, and discover the exceptional service and personal touch of Kentucky small business."

The Kentucky Artisan Center features items created by more than 700 Kentucky artisans, including hand-crafted gifts such as woven scarves and blankets, glassware, ornaments, fine furniture, quilts and a wide range of functional and decorative pottery. Other gift ideas available at the center include Kentucky artists' paintings and photographs, jewelry, books, music, children's toys and Kentucky Proud food products.

Todd Schafer's Crooner Christmas

A wonderful way to get yourself in the spirit of Christmas would be by attending "A Crooner Christmas" VIII at the Alexandria Community Center from 3-5 p.m. on Sunday, December 15.

Todd Schafer, Jerry Moore, Todd Whitford and special guest will be performing Christmas songs and songs that were sung by your favorite crooners in years past.

From Sinatra to Crosby, from pop to country, plus a special group of Christmas gospel will be performed. Admission is free with a free will offering taken to help less fortunate individuals and families in the area.

Todd Schafer has strong ties to the community through his grandparents John and Nellie Keith, who were lifetime residents of Pendleton County. His parents, Lee and Joyce Schafer also grew up in Pendleton and Campbell counties until Todd was born and they moved to Louisville.

While growing up, Todd performed for many churches in the area as well as senior events. In the late 1970s he performed with Lawrence Welk on several occasions. He has also performed the national anthem for many major colleges including UK during the NCAA Regionals, U of L, Xavier, and opened UC at Shoemaker Arena now known as Fifth Third Arena.

For nearly a decade, Todd has lived with a 17 to 20% ejection factor resulting from congestive heart failure/cardiomyopathy and atrial fib. God allows him to perform this program year after year.

Come hear your favorite Crooner tunes and get your Christmas spirit brightened with beautiful renditions of "Let it Snow" and "White Christmas" to "Your Cheatin' Heart" to "Release Me" to "Maria" to "Amazing Grace." There is sure to be something for everyone!

Permit needed for banners

Pendleton County senior activities

Attention Pendleton County Seniors! There are some exciting activities coming up this week at the Falmouth Senior Activity Center located at 1111 Chipman Street, Falmouth.

Following are a few dates to remember:

• December 13 - Kenna Knight will be here teaching nutrition education.

• December 17 - The shopping van will be going out and about. This would be a great time to get last minute Christmas shopping in.

Following are also a couple of dates to keep in mind:

• December 24 and 25 - The center will be closed for Christmas.

Republican Party meeting, Dec. 17

The Pendleton County Republican Party will hold its monthly meeting and annual Christmas Party at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, December 17 at Howard's Place Restaurant.

They will be hosting special guest Matt Bevin, the candidate running against Senator Mitch McConnell in the May Republican Primary. The party looks forward to meeting the senate candidate and hearing about all that he will do for Pendleton County and Kentucky when he is elected next November.

• December 27 - The club will be seeing the final matinee of "It's a Wonderful Life" at Kincaid Regional Theatre at 2 p.m. If you are interested in going, please call the office to sign up to reserve your seat on the van.

If you have a New Year's resolution regarding your health/weight then don't forget, the center has exercise equipment available for the community. Wii bowling, Wii fitness, and van services for doctor appointments are also available as well as several other amenities!

For information on any activities that are going on, call Joanna at the senior center at 859-654-6029.

Also at this meeting, they will be signing Christmas cards to send to American troops and their families that are in the states, and will also be collecting items to send to servicemen and women who are stationed overseas.

If you would like to meet Candidate Bevin, support the troops, or just celebrate Christmas, then please attend this meeting and learn about the positive, productive and progressive ways that the republican party can help the community and the people in it.

Beware: seasonal scams and identity theft

As Kentuckians generously open their wallets for those in need of a helping hand this holiday season, it's important to remember to give wisely, ensuring that your donations are made to reputable charities. Much like storms and natural disasters, the season of giving brings out the best and worst in people, and scam artists are always discovering new schemes to take advantage of the kindness of others.

My Office of Consumer Protection and I ask that you keep the following tips in mind as you make a charitable donation this holiday season:

- Donate to charities you know and trust.
- Be cautious of sound-alike charities and solicitors unable to answer questions.
- Where possible, make donations by check or credit card rather than cash.
- Don't be pressured into making a donation.
- Ask for identification and written information when you're approached in person.
- Always ask what percentage of your dollar goes to the cause.

You can also utilize my office's charitable giving database to research a charity before making a donation. The database at www.ag.ky.gov/civil/consumerprotection/charity lists which charities have registered with the Office of the Attorney General and their status. Today, many of us turn to our smart phones, tablets and computers for our holiday shopping needs, but I encourage you to be cautious when making purchases over the Internet. Many scammers use a technique called phishing to gain access to someone's secure information, and seasonal phishing scams often come disguised as requests for charitable contributions, electronic greeting cards, online shopping advertisements or credit card applications.

This is often done through emails that may contain links to websites infected with malware, enabling a scammer to locate user names, passwords, Social Security numbers and other personal data.

Taking a few proactive steps can help keep you safe when shopping online:

- Only do business with companies you know and trust and that offer secure payment processing. Look for websites that start with <https://> (the "s" stands for secure).
- To protect yourself against seasonal phishing scams, verify the communication by calling the company or by logging into your account directly from the business' website.
- Never do business with someone who insists that you wire money.
- Using credit cards while shopping online can offer extra protection. Consider designating one credit card with a lower credit limit for online purchases.

- Keep personal information private. Don't disclose your address, phone number, Social Security number or bank account information to a stranger.
- Never respond to emails or pop-up ads that ask for your personal or financial information.
- Avoid storing credit card information online.
- When buying a gift card, only buy from reputable sources that you know and trust. It is also wise to give the recipient the terms and conditions point of sale material, as well as the receipt confirming the amount purchased on the card. Additionally, consumers should avoid buying gift cards from online auction or "for sale" listing sites, as they can be counterfeit.

If you are the victim of a consumer scam, help is available by contacting the Office of the Attorney General's Consumer Protection Hotline at 1-888-432-9257 or by visiting ag.ky.gov/civil/consumerprotection.

My office has also designed a step-by-step toolkit that can help you in the unfortunate event your identity is stolen. In it, you'll find a checklist complete with information and the telephone numbers of agencies that can assist you along the way. You can get the toolkit, as well as tips to keep you from becoming a victim of identity theft at ag.ky.gov/idtheft.

Back Yonder

"Basketball Changes"

I have always liked basketball. Back in the old days this sport was the only key for a young country guy to escape into the exciting world of the heroes. When we had the opportunity to play we felt like gladiators as we ran onto the court to match skills with our opposition. Even though the spectators were fewer and the gyms were smaller, this event was the highlight of our existence. This game marked an extension of our community and school and both spectator and participant felt pride and took part in the action.

It seemed as if the old days provided a more personal experience for everyone. We all knew each other's names and their families and felt more than a team. We felt almost like a family. I can still hear the cheerleaders yell as I stood on the free throw line, "Two, Four, Six, Eight, Who do We Appreciate?...MARVIN, MARVIN, MARVIN! or MARVIN, MARVIN, HE'S OUR MAN, IF HE CAN'T DO IT NO ONE CAN!"

These and other cheers caused an old farm boy like me to jump higher, run faster and try harder. Even when we lost the game, we still had fun.

Today, it seems as if our sports are more impersonal and too complex. I know there are more teams and many more young people, but there is something about the atmosphere that lacks that "team" or "family" feeling.

I would almost bet that if a modern coach were to line his team up and hand each player a piece of paper and pencil, and direct each to name every player on his squad, all might have trouble knowing the names of their team mates.

I am a fan of college sports and I don't know for sure but I doubt if 10% of Kentucky's basketball players are from Kentucky!

Now before I go too far I would like to refer to a statement the late President Richard Nixon often quoted, "I want to make myself perfectly clear." I am not being critical of any local coaches, teams, cheerleaders, or supporters, nor am I making any reference to race, creed or color. I am merely making generalizations about modern sports, and especially on the professional level.

When I was younger, I idolized professional basketball players. I knew all the teams, coaches, players and all their specialties. My favorite teams were the Boston Celtics and the St. Louis Hawks. I idolized such greats as Bob Pettit, Cliff Hagan, Frank Ramsey, Bill Russell, Bob Cousy, K.C. and Sam Jones, Oscar Robinson and a host of others. The coaches I held in reverence were John Wooden and Red Auerbach.

I would watch a game on TV and at the conclusion go outside where we had a goal on the side of the barn, and try to imitate the shots and moves I had witnessed. I dreamed of being a professional basketball player.

Maybe I am just getting older and realize I will never fulfill that dream, but to be quite honest, I just don't enjoy watching professional basketball anymore. I am not saying the players aren't any good. In fact, I believe the players today on all levels are much more talented than they have ever been in history.

I believe something is lacking. The players, coaches, and staff are so impersonal. The impression I get is most players convey the attitude they could care less if they have anybody watching them or not. In fact, they acts as if they would rather be "twenty miles from thunder" than to be on the court playing basketball. They appear as if they are actually miserable and are doing the fans a favor by playing. Many have tattoos, earrings, necklaces and personalized hairdos that indicate that they are really trying to draw attention to themselves rather than to their team.

Something else that also concerns me is it seems as if the rules of the game have really been abused. The original rules directed when one dribbled the ball, this was to be done in a vertical direction (up and down). Now, the pros can "palm" or carry the ball half way down the court and make three circles and nothing is called. They can also pick the ball up, at center court, take three or four long strides, turn a circle, dunk the ball and never be called for walking. "My, how the rules have been changed."

So much for opinions from an old man. However, I must leave with a few suggestions to the professional authorities, coaches, referees, owners and people who make the rules:

1.) Coaches should test players on a regular basis to make sure they know each other's names.

2.) Coaches should have a barber come once a month to insure that all hair styles and beards are standard.

3.) There should be no more than two referees at one time. (The more you have, the more each referee depends on the other, and no one makes the call. The higher the number the weaker the referee.)

4.) Each referee should be equipped with a bucket, a roll of duct tape, and a supply of hair nets. (Any player displaying visible tattoos should have them covered with duct tape. Any player wearing earrings or necklaces should be required to place them in the bucket until after the game.)

5.) Referees should also be directed to pay strict attention to players who "walk" or "palm" the ball.

6.) Players representing their particular college should be required to enroll in a beginning speech class so that when they are interviewed on radio or television the main portion of their responses will not be "you know," "ah," "great," or "yeah man."

7.) For the experts who make rule changes, the following suggestions should be considered: players abilities and heights have become such that the following guidelines would add more flexibility and excitement to the game.

Heights of goals: Elementary School and Middle School - 9 ft.; High School - 10 ft.; College and Professional - 12 ft.

Three point ranges should also be adjusted according to age.

I feel these changes would make a more exciting and challenging sport.

Johnson voices her view on the Pipeline

Dear Editor,

I scanned over last weeks edition of The Falmouth Outlook article regarding the Pipeline Proposal. It sounds like it's here whether we want it or not. I haven't been able to attend the forums/meetings since I have to work odd hours, so it angers me that I haven't been able to voice an opinion or listen to those of others. Some might imply that since I don't own hundreds of acres or a large farm that my opinion is not important. However, mine should be no different than anyone else who lives here. Everyone who lives here should have an opinion and be aware of what is going on. Are we really giving the impression that we are that stupid? I just heard from a reliable source that the construction teams are digging "test dirt" in the area this week. I know many are not aware of this. Just as I am sure that many are not aware of the true dangers that this is going to pose for our area. Looking back thru the last six months, there have been pipeline explosions that are prime examples: Texas (Nov. 14), Oklahoma (Oct. 9), Illinois (Aug. 21), and even in China (Nov. 22) that killed 44 people. Don't get me wrong, someone will say that the one in China was different because it was an oil pipeline, but I am sure they were still assured that it was "safe" just as we have been. These are man-made. Nothing is forever! Additionally, I have read/heard no mention of the (New Madrid) fault-line that we are sitting on. What happens to these "indestructible" pipelines when our quiet quakes decide to wake up?

Could that cause even larger destruction? After all, the New Madrid is a pretty large fault-line. I do not believe that the pipelines are going to be safe for us or our environmental future. For the record, I do own a small plot of land and I also rent. I have not lived here my whole life but I had intended on living here the rest of my life. Now I am not so sure. I hope that anyone who is making an easy buck off this (yes, they are paid) or has the promise of a great job (yes, some are being offered jobs) is really taking the future into consideration and not just thinking about the here and now. I hope that it's not true that the county has "sold it's soul." May God help us all if it is. Thank you!

Sincerely,
Shannon Johnson

Medicare receiving further funding cuts

Dear Editor,

Now that Congress is negotiating a new budget, I am afraid that Medicare Advantage may receive further funding cuts. If more reductions are made, copays and premiums may go up, and I do not like this idea at all. Congress should not cut a program that our country's senior citizens have paid into all these years. At this stage of our lives, we should be entitled to have affordable health coverage.

So far, my Medicare Advantage plan has done a great job addressing my health care needs. I have had two back surgeries and am waiting for the third to be rescheduled. I also had major liver surgery in 1994. My health plan has been great, and I have not had a lot of out-of-pocket expenses. I switched plans this past year, and so far my new one has paid well. However, there are a lot of difficulties getting everything prequalified, and it is not accepted everywhere like they tell you it is. If further funding cuts are made to Medicare Advantage programs, problems like these would likely become even worse.

The health insurance situation is already difficult for many senior citizens. During this crucial time, Congress should not make decisions that will make it even worse. As the new federal budget is drafted, I want our elected officials in Washington to increase, not decrease, funding to the important Medicare Advantage program.

Sincerely,
Carol Mains

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:
 - a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
 - b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
 - c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

The Bank of Kentucky announces scholars

Robert W. Zapp, President of The Bank of Kentucky, recently announced the names of The Bank of Kentucky Scholars of the Governor's Scholars Program (GSP) for 2013. "Kentucky is extremely fortunate to have the Governor's Scholars Program," said Zapp. "And, we are privileged to help provide support. It is one of our educational treasures. Students, schools, and communities, and the Commonwealth, are all beneficiaries of this excellent program."

In response to the announcement, Hal Smith, President of the GSP Foundation, added, "The Bank of Kentucky's financial support demonstrates the importance of the special public-private relationship which has helped make the Governor's Scholars Program so valuable for Kentucky. Not only does the GSP experience enhance the lives of the scholars, it also enhances the lives of all citizens in the Commonwealth. We are most appreciative for The Bank of Kentucky's commitment to the GSP."

The Bank of Kentucky Scholars of the GSP are selected by the Governor's Scholars Program at the conclusion of the summer experience. The Scholars represent outstanding commitment to academic excellence, service to the community, and the promise of distinguished leadership contributions to the future of the Commonwealth.

The six scholars, all high school seniors, selected for 2013 are: William Atkinson, Dixie Heights High School; Chelsea Brossart, Pendleton County High School; Hannah Colson, Grant County High School; Nicole Robertson, Campbell County High School; Colin Waters, Boone County High School; Sierra Wong, Gallatin County High School.

The Bank of Kentucky is the largest community bank in Northern Kentucky and the sixth largest in the Greater Cincinnati Metro Area. With over $1.8 billion in total assets, it operates 32 branch locations in the Northern Kentucky counties of Boone, Kenton, Campbell, Grant, Gallatin and Pendleton and in downtown Cincinnati, Ohio. It offers a full array of banking products and services to individuals, businesses, municipalities, and non-profit organizations. The Bank was founded in 1990 and is based in Florence. The Bank of Kentucky is a subsidiary of The Bank of Kentucky Financial Corporation.

The Governor's Scholars Program is a stimulating, non-traditional, five-week residential program for outstanding Kentucky students from across the state who have completed their junior year in high school. The mission of the GSP is to identify and nurture Kentucky's next generation of civic and economic leadership. Established in 1983, the focus of the GSP is not limited to enhancing intellectual development; the focus is also upon the students' potential to have an impact at the local, state, national, and global levels. The educational experience of the GSP is truly unique in its nature and it significantly impacts its scholars and the Commonwealth.

Funded by a combination of public/state and private monies, the Program is cost-free to the scholars. The Governor and Legislature and hundreds of corporations, foundations, business and civic leaders and organizations, alumni, parents, and friends all contribute annually to make this vital program available and effective.

HIGHLIGHTS

Review of "Captive in Iran"

By Dave Shipp

"Captive in Iran" by Maryam Rostampour and Marziyeh Amirzadeh is the real life story of two young Christian ladies who were born into Muslim families in Iran. They both became Christians as young adults and met while studying theology in Turkey. Deciding to work together, they returned to Iran and began sharing their faith. In 2009 the young women were arrested in Tehran for promoting Christianity, a capital crime in Iran (promoting any religion other than Islam is prohibited).

The official charges against them were apostasy (Christian evangelism), anti-government activity, and blasphemy (sarcasm of Islam) for which they faced execution by hanging. They spent 259 days in Evin Prison in Tehran (perhaps the world's most notorious prison) as many individual and amnesty groups around the world prayed for their release. In Evin Prison they lived in unspeakable conditions, were interrogated intensely and intimidated. The treatment of the young and attractive ladies, as well as other prisoners is too horrendous to explain in this review. For that information one needs to read the book, however they would never renounce their love of Jesus and the truth in the Bible.

While in prison many women came to them and questioned their knowledge of Jesus and Christianity and many, many of the women asked for prayer - which the young captives did with no concern for the possible consequences of their actions.

Following international pressure and after months of interrogation, abuse and threats of execution, the young ladies were freed in November 2009 and then cleared of all charges.

When reading this book one must ponder how many Christians would react as these young women in the face of such oppression for their biblical beliefs and actions. To read the full account of their harrowing experiences visit the Pendleton Co. Public Library and check out a copy of "Captive in Iran."

Tips for mailing holiday greeting cards

Millions of greeting cards are sent out each holiday season. Estimates suggest that 85 percent of the United States population, or roughly 250 million people, mails out greeting cards. That adds up to billions of cards going through the postal system - and all in a relatively short period of time.

Men and women who hope to send holiday greeting cards must purchase, prepare and mail the cards early enough so they are received prior to the holiday. It is never too early to begin greeting card preparation and assembly.

The majority of cards are bought in boxed packages or groupings of photo cards. Gone are the days of hand-picking individual greeting cards for every recipient. This trend toward general-theme cards has streamlined the process and can help senders start their tasks earlier than ever before. Some people like to take advantage of post-holiday sales to stock up on greeting cards for the following year at a deep discount. This means they can write the cards out at their leisure and then simply toss them into the mailbox at the appropriate time.

Much in the way people begin their holiday shopping or decorating right after the Thanksgiving turkey leftovers have been stored away, a good majority of people also begin their greeting card writing after Thanksgiving as well. Those who want their cards to arrive first will mail them within a few days of Thanksgiving. When sent domestically, it is safe to assume that cards mailed out up to two weeks before Christmas will arrive on time. After that point, you may be risking lateness, particularly for rural delivery addresses unless cards are sent priority. For those who need to mail cards internationally, sticking close to the end of November will ensure they arrive in a timely manner.

People who want to make a statement and not have their greeting cards get lost in the crowd may intentionally mail them late and lean toward wishing health and prosperity for the new year, rather than sending a card tied to a specific holiday. This gives extra time for mailing and will set cards apart from the many others.

Photo cards have grown in popularity, and people interested in having a professional photographer shoot their holiday card photos would be wise to make an appointment as early as possible. Popular photographers often start holiday photo shoots in October. Keep in mind that the photographs can take a while to be processed and arrive. For those who are on borrowed time, taking a photo with a personal camera and having prints made up at a pharmacy or retail store can save time. It is unlikely that professional photos taken in December can be printed and mailed and still arrive on time. Also, be sure to heed copyright laws concerning photographs. It may be illegal to scan an image from a photographer or photo studio and have prints made without written permission.

Postage is another thing that will have to be considered when mailing out cards. While many cards fall under the weight and size limits of a regular first class postage stamp, unusually shaped envelopes or heavy greeting cards may cost more. Rather than have them returned, it is a good idea to have at least one card weighed at the post office to ensure the right amount of postage is affixed. Some cards will be packaged with envelopes that state "Additional postage may be required" right on the box.

Greeting cards are an important component of the holiday season. Ensuring they arrive on time requires planning and sending them out with ample time to spare.

NEWS FLASH

Kynect adds Sunday hours in December

Health benefit exchange call center open seven days a week for expected enrollment peak

Governor Steve Beshear has extended the hours for the call center supporting the Commonwealth's health benefit exchange during what is expected to be a peak enrollment period.

Administrators for the kynect health benefit exchange expect a surge in applications in December. For insurance coverage to take effect on January 1, 2014, it must be purchased through an exchange by Monday, December 23.

The kynect call center will be open seven days a week from Sunday, December 8, through Sunday, December 22. Sunday hours for the call center are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. E.T. Contact center professionals are helping Kentuckians navigate the exchange and explain the health insurance options available to them.

"The kynect health benefit exchange has enrolled more than 69,000 people in healthcare coverage since October 1, but there are still more Kentuckians who want to sign up for insurance before the end of the year. Keeping the call center open on Sundays will help kynect deliver the same high-quality consumer experience even when numbers of callers spike," said Gov. Beshear. "As we work toward our goal of ensuring all Kentuckians have access to affordable healthcare coverage, this facility - where Kentuckians help Kentuckians - plays a key role in helping citizens understand the process."

The contact center, a major component of the Affordable Care Act, is operated through a contract with Xerox. As a condition of the contract, kynect stipulated that the call center be operated in Kentucky.

The Lexington, Ky., contact center began operation on August 15, several weeks in advance of open enrollment. Since opening, the center has received more than 180,000 calls.

"As the year winds down, we are ramping up at the kynect contact center," said Connie Harvey, corporate vice president and chief operating office, Healthcare Services, Xerox. "The kynect contact center is there for people as they select and purchase health insurance - maybe for the first time - someone falsely claiming to be a utility employee. The scammer warns that power will be shut off for some reason if they don't make a payment. The person is then instructed to purchase a prepaid debit card and to call the scammer back. The scammer asks for the debit card's receipt number and PIN number which grants instant access to the card's funds.

Some of these scammers use technology to have caller ID

when it's convenient for them. These are important decisions for people, and we're helping simplify the process."

Customer care representatives are available to answer questions about kynect and to help citizens navigate the online application process. Representatives are available via phone, live online chat and email. Kentuckians without internet access can also get help completing and filing applications over the phone.

The contact center provides assistance in English and Spanish as well as other languages, and can be reached at 1-855-4kynect (459-6328). In December, the contact center is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. E.T. and on Saturdays and Sundays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. E.T.

The kynect website can be found at www.kynect.ky.gov. Open enrollment through kynect will continue through March 31, 2014, with coverage effective as early as Jan. 1, 2014. Federal funding from the ACA supports contact center staffing and training through 2014.

Owen Electric warns of utility scam

A Kentucky electric co-op member received a phone call from a man claiming to be from the utility. The caller informed the member that his meter had to be changed and his power would be off for 72 hours. If he could pay $900 on a prepaid debit card, the process could be expedited.

This is a utility scam that has been running in multiple states since the summer.

The scam is conducted when an individual receives a call from someone falsely claiming to be a utility employee. The scammer warns that power will be shut off for some reason if they don't make a payment. The person is then instructed to purchase a prepaid debit card and to call the scammer back. The scammer asks for the debit card's receipt number and PIN number which grants instant access to the card's funds.

Some of these scammers use technology to have caller ID

spoofing to replicate actual utility phone numbers.

Owen Electric Cooperative will never ask or require members to purchase prepaid debit cards to avoid terminating electric service. Members can make legitimate payments by phone, online, bank draft, mail or in person.

Owen Electric urges members who suspect or experience fraud to hang up and call police, then Owen Electric.

KSP will conduct traffic checkpoints in December

The Kentucky State Police at Dry Ridge will be conducting traffic safety checkpoints throughout the post district. These checkpoints will be set up at designated areas on highways where statistics have shown an elevated number of vehicle crashes. During the checkpoints officers will be enforcing laws related to Operating a Motor Vehicle While Under the Influence of Drugs or Alcohol, Licensing of Motor Vehicles and Operators, Registration and Insurance Violations, Seat Belt and Child Restraint violations along with Motor Vehicle Equipment Violations.

Sharp FCCLA attends National Cluster Meeting

Fifteen members of Sharp Middle School Family, Career and Community Leaders of America (FCCLA), their adviser and two chaperones attended the national FCCLA cluster meeting in Charlotte, NC on Nov. 21-22. While attending the meeting students attended sessions on leadership, cyber bullying, peer pressure, and FCCLA activities. They also enjoyed a networking session where they were able to meet other FCCLA members from across the country. The opening and closing sessions they attended featured guest speakers about accomplishing their goals and overcoming obstacles. Three of the members also competed in the skill demonstration events of Consumer Math and Creed speaking. While in Charlotte, the students were able to visit some of the sites in the city such as the Nascar Hall of Fame and the outdoor holiday ice skating rink in downtown Charlotte.

Ladycats drop season opener to Calvary Christian

Two things emerged from the Ladycats opening game in the Bracken County Classic versus Calvary Christian, the Cats are young at every position but have talent that will need to grow and key players that have experience must stay out of foul trouble to carry the team while the youngsters are learning.

Youth and inexperience on the varsity level showed on the floor with some of the decisions we made." Ladycat varsity coach Scott Collins pointed out. "That will improve as the players get more time and experience on the playing floor in a varsity game."

Coach Collins' group saw all eleven players take the court and eight players ended up scoring in the Cats' cause.

Sophomore Amber Purdy led the way with six points, while junior Carlyne Nuckels added five hitting the only three-pointer.

Junior Isabella Hall who is entering her 4th season of varsity ball was in foul trouble early and scored just three points in the 3rd quarter. Bailey Wanstrath, also a junior, had two points in the first half but was also limited by foul trouble. Both are expected to be among the Ladycats' leading scorers.

Early in the 2nd quarter, the Ladycats sent a team of 7th grader Summer Secrist, 8th graders Anna Askren and Madison Wyatt, sophomore Alex Blackaby and freshmen Sydney Tillett. Four of the five were not only playing their first varsity game but their first game high school game ever.

"At times, we were hesitant to shoot the ball," coach Collins lamented. "We have to make sure they know if they are on the floor, they have to be willing to shoot the ball. That will come, though, as they get more comfortable playing varsity basketball."

Pendleton's match-up versus Bracken County on the second night of the Bracken County Classic was cancelled because of the weather. Coach Collins will have a week of practice to build off what the young Cats learned in their first game as their next game is Saturday versus St. Henry with JV playing at 2 p.m. and varsity at 3:30 p.m.

Pendleton: Wanstrath 1 0 2, Hall 1 1 3, Askins 0 2 2, Nuckles 2 0 5, Wyatt 0 2 2, Purdy 2 2 6, Am Blackaby 1 1 3, Al Blackaby 1 0 2, Mason 2 0 2, Totals 9 8 27

Calvary Christian: Merkley 3 1 9, Roaden 8 3 20, Emmerich 2 2 6, Herald 1 0 2, McCord 2 1 5, Totals 16 7 42

Wildcats fall to Covington Catholic/Notre Dame Academy

The Pendleton County Bowling team traveled to Erlanger's Super Bowl to face Covington Catholic (boys) and Notre Dame Academy (girls) on Thursday, December 5.

In the first match, the team of Dalton Hill, Jonah Smith, and Devon Boggs fell to the Colonels 2-0, both being close matches. The second match featured a new member of the team, 5th grader Trevor Colvin. Colvin led the way with a 144 total, but the Cats once again fell short in both matches. In the two baker's games, Pendleton County closed the gap in Game one, but fell 161-121. In the final game for the boys, Pendleton held the lead going into the final frame, but Covington Catholic finished with a spare and nine pins, to take a narrow 124-122 win.

The ladies bowled much better, but fell to a very talented Panda squad. In game one, it was NDA taking a 413-311 win. With the same teams facing off, Pendleton closed the gap, but Notre Dame still prevailed 379-327. The squads switched players, but the results remained the same in the first game with NDA winning, 369-278. However, in the final game of the evening, Cassidy O'Hara fired a career-best 139 to lead the ladies to a 370-343 win. In the girl's baker's matches, the Pandas took the sweep with scores of 129-87 and 121-102, respectively.

"The girls bowled much better tonight," commented coach Polley. "They all are showing a sign of improving, which is perfect timing for us."

He also was impressed with his newest player. "Trevor doesn't bowl like someone who is in middle school. If he continues to improve, he'll be an excellent bowler for us for years to come."

The next match for the "Alley Cats" is this coming Thursday, December 12 against Boone County at Southern Lanes in Alexandria.

Purchasing someone a gift card? Better read this first!

Gift cards make excellent presents, especially during the holidays when you're unsure of what to buy for a family member or friend. But, BBB warns, like everything else, gift cards may have strings attached. It's important to read the fine print before buying and giving.

New rules for gift cards went into effect in 2010. Some rules include:

- Money on a gift card cannot expire for at least five years from the date the card was purchased, or from the last date any additional money was loaded onto the card.
- Inactivity fees can be charged only after a card has not been used for at least one year, and you can be charged only once per month.

- The expiration date of a card must be clearly disclosed on the card, and fees must be clearly disclosed on the card or its packaging.

Here are some helpful tips from BBB regarding gift card purchases:

- Only buy from sources you trust. Avoid buying gift cards from online auction sites, because the cards may be counterfeit or may have been obtained fraudulently.
- Read the fine print before purchasing the card. Is there a fee to buy the card? If you buy a card by phone or online, are there shipping and handling fees? If you don't like the terms and conditions, buy elsewhere.

- Inspect the card before you buy it. Verify that none of the protective stickers have been removed. Make sure that the codes on the back of the card haven't been scratched off to reveal a PIN number. Report any damaged cards to the store selling the cards.

- Consider the finances of the retailer. If you buy a card from a company that files for bankruptcy or goes out of business, the card may be worth less than you had anticipated.

- Give the recipient your original receipt so they can verify the card's purchase in case it is lost or stolen.

Cats defeat Silver Grove, fall to Scott in opening week

By Sam McClanahan, Reporter

The Pendleton County Wildcats basketball team kicked tipped-off the 2013-14 season last Tuesday night with an impressive 14-point victory on the road against Silver Grove.

Senior center Colton Pugh led the way scoring 20 points, and controlled the interior with numerous rebounds and solid defense. "Big Country" as he's known by his coach and teammates, got off to a hot start and the Cats were able to maintain control of the game throughout the contest.

"Colton had a monster game for us and he'll be a guy we count on to provide scoring and rebounding all season long," said head coach Ed Cravens. "Overall, we played well as a unit and I though we did a good job of moving the ball around."

The Wildcats held their home opener last Thursday against Scott High and through three quarters played well with the Eagles, unfortunately, a strong final quarter by Scott proved to be the difference in a 81-65 final. Strong defensive pressure applied by the Eagles resulted in many Wildcat turnovers that were converted into points, and the youthful inexperience of the Cats was evident.

"Our inexperience hurt us down the stretch. However, it was something that we can learn from and grow from," said Cravens.

Coach Cravens went on to point out that everyone on the roster was able to make an appearance in the game and allowing his players to gain varsity experience is something he will emphasize in the early portion of the season. "There's a lot of youth on this team and I want our guys to get comfortable and also confident in their ability to contribute whenever they are called upon."

The Wildcats scheduled game at George Rogers Clark last Saturday was postponed due to inclement weather. The Cats host Lloyd at 7:30 p.m., December 10 and will host Nicholas County at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, December 14.

Gift ideas for the outdoor enthusiast on your x-mas list

The Kentucky Afield Outdoor Calendar is a unique gift for the angler, hunter, nature lover or any other outdoor enthusiast in your circle of friends and family. Subscribers to Kentucky Afield, the official magazine of the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources, deeply appreciate the hunting season dates, practical hunting and fishing tips and interesting notes about nature contained in the nationally award winning calendar that comes with their subscription.

This year, you may purchase the 2014 Kentucky Afield Outdoor Calendar individually for $7.50 from the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife website at fw.ky.gov. You may also receive the 2015 calendar in December 2014 by subscribing to Kentucky Afield magazine for $10 per year or $18 for two years. You may subscribe online at fw.ky.gov or by calling Kentucky Fish and Wildlife at 1-800-858-1549.

A recipient of a Kentucky Fish and Wildlife gift certificate that functions similar to a gift card may purchase a Kentucky Afield Outdoor Calendar or a subscription to Kentucky Afield magazine for themselves. They may also purchase licenses and permits, Otter Creek Outdoor Recreation Area passes and summer camp registration fees with this gift certificate available online at fw.ky.gov.

Kentucky Fish and Wildlife gift certificates are good for five years from the date of purchase.

Hats and shirts with the Kentucky Afield logo often worn by Tim Farmer on the "Kentucky Afield" television show make a great gift for the hunter or angler on your list. They may be purchased at the Kentucky Afield Mall at fw.ky.gov. Women's Kentucky Afield logo polo shirts are also available.

The worst thing in the world for an angler, especially for those who fish in winter, is getting wet under your clothes. Cheap rain gear is cheap for a reason: it doesn't work when you need it most. Technological improvements in fabrics, breathability, light weight and warmth push rain gear light years ahead of the old, cold rubber rain gear of years past.

Quality rain gear is a gift that is always appreciated by the hunter, angler, kayaker or camper in your family.

Many folks can remember the old flashlights that held half a dozen D-cell batteries and weighed a ton. They seemed bright at the time, but with the introduction of battery saving LED bulbs for flashlights, you can get a much brighter light that fits in your shirt pocket. Many models resist rain, provide great amounts of light and last for months on one AA battery.

Few hunters, anglers, hikers, kayakers or bird watchers would be disappointed to have another bright flashlight to stow in a tackle box, pack, boat or glove box.

A roomy, comfortable fishing shirt is another gift that both men and women appreciate. Fishing shirts grant freedom of movement, making them great for golf as well as fishing. Most models are vented in the back to let heat escape with many pockets of varying size, perfect for hiking, bird watching and even gardening.

Fishing shirts may be the most comfortable shirt available for warm weather activities.

The old, waffle-weave style under garments of the 1970s did an OK job of keeping a late season deer hunter warm in the stand. After wearing the modern base layers made of polypropylene and other synthetic blends, the waffle-weave stuff will soon be in a box awaiting the next yard sale. The new base layer designs offer incredible warmth, feel like silk and have the weight of pantyhose.

They make an incredible gift for deer, turkey or waterfowl hunters, campers and anglers.

Try some of these gifts this Christmas and make the gift recipient smile with actual pleasure instead of a tight, forced smile that accompanies receiving another robe or tie.

BERLIN BAPTIST

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday school at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m. message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist church. Brother Dan's message was taken from Luke 1:26-49 and titled "Do we allow Christ to abide in our lives and do his work or do we only call on Sunday?"

BUTLER METHODIST

Pastor Brian's message on the First Sunday of Advent was "Beyond Judgment Day." The Advent candle was lit by Frank and Carolyn Mullikin. Christmas hymns were a big part of the service on Sunday.

The change for change collection this week will be donated to the North Family Resource Center for the needy in our community.

Can you sing, play a musical instrument or anything that would pertain to the Christmas season? If so, Brian is looking for you to help out in the services for the upcoming Christmas services. Only two more services remain for the Advent Bible Study at River Valley Nursing Home, come join Brian and crew on December 11 and December 18 there.

Pastor Brian and family cordially invite you to the Parsonage

Open House to be held from 2-5 p.m., Sunday, December 22. Just bring a snack and join them for fun and fellowship.

The Moravian Love Feast will be held on December 15 and the Christmas Eve service will be held at 7 p.m.

Please pray for Lane Hartzel, Bobbie Seibel, Trish Donnelly, Amy Wesselman, Shirley Race, all those spoken about on Sunday and the family of Arnie Moreland - services were held on Thursday.

God Bless you and keep you.

CHAPEL OF PRAISE

Praise the Lord, God is moving at The Chapel. Brother Ronny's message on December 1 was from Jeremiah 29:7-14, titled "Stay on Point." We are to keep our eyes upon the cross. Don't look to the left or to the right, and don't look down, look up to the Cross. Seems like everything in the world is changing. But God never changes, in Malachi 3:6 we read "For I am the Lord, I change not. God has a plan for your life. For I know the thoughts that I have for you, saith the Lord, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an expected end." Jeremiah 29:11. So lets study God's Word and stay on point. Have a blessed week.

FALMOUTH BAPTIST

Christmas is getting closer and closer. Remember that Christ is the reason for the season. Ed, Christina and Sarah Monroe lit the first candle, the candle of hope, in our Advent wreath. We serenaded those having birthdays in December as they came and gave their offering for missions. The choir sang a beautiful selection "Anthem for Christmas."

Bro. Cohen delivered a wonderful message titled, "Why Have Hope?" We have hope because of the love He has lavished on us, by giving His only Son for us. We also have hope because we are children of God, because we will be made like Him, and because we will see Him again!

Following our morning worship we had a delicious meal to celebrate Thanksgiving/Christmas and then Santa made an appearance. The children and youth then loaded in the buses and headed to River Valley Nursing Home to sing carols and share goodies with the residents.

FALMOUTH CHRISTIAN

Brother Rick's message was from Zechariah 2:1-13, "How Do You Measure Up?"

Where do you want to be in your life when you die? We must desire to have God in our lives. We should be in church every Sunday and we should worship God every day of the week. We should be standing in line to get into the church. When we have so many things on our mind we lose sight of God. We need to get our lives in order. If we are talking, we are not listening to what God has to say. We are born and we die, it's up to us what we do in between. Only God can save us from hell.

Ladies night out with Katie will be at 6 p.m., December 13;

"My shield is with God, who saves the upright in heart."

~ Psalm 7:10

and Live Nativity Scene on the lawn from 6:30 and 7:30 p.m. on December 14 and 5:30 p.m. on December 15.

FALMOUTH METHODIST

There is much of life where anticipation plays a significant role. And depending on what it is that we're looking forward to with great anticipation, it can sometimes be just as meaningful, or even overshadow, the event itself. For example, I have heard people say before that the planning and anticipation that precedes a vacation is just as exciting, if not more so, than the actual vacation itself. Anticipation does something wonderful to us and for us!

The Christmas season is one of those times when anticipation is at its highest level. No matter your age, in the time leading up to Christmas our anticipation continues to grow and excite us in the waiting.

Is the anticipation for the time of Christ being born anew in your heart filling you with excitement? Does it make a difference in the way you live your life during this time of the year?

FIRST BAPTIST

We were blessed this Sunday with special music by Mike Whaley. Kelly Grisik, Madison and McKennan Wyatt lit the first candle on our advent wreath.

Bro. Harry's message was taken from Psalms. Sometimes peace doesn't seem to come to us. It is difficult to find peace in this lost and dying world. Remember, Jesus Christ is the Prince of Peace. When we let go and give our all to God, we will have peace.

We will have a Christmas Candlelight service on December 22, at 7 p.m.

We added several new names to our prayer list. Pray for the lost, those facing illness, those who have lost loved ones, our military, our country, and our community.

Visit with us and receive the real meaning of Christmas through scripture and song.

No God - No peace! Know God - Know peace!

MORGAN CHRISTIAN

The Jesus of Christmas present is just that - present. The birthday of the church is the beginning of Advent, and the people of God are called to be the presence of Christ in the world. The church is a sign, a witness, and a foretaste of the kingdom of God here on earth, and has been given the gift of the Holy Spirit to be Christ's healing presence in the world. This season we are called once again to ask ourselves if that's what we (the church) are doing? How do we embody Christ's presence to our community? Are we healing any places of injustice and suffering? Do we care for the least among us? Do we set the example of a loving attitude? Do we reflect the love of Christ in our own homes, with our own families? The Jesus of Christmas present is right here, right now, available to us. Really look at the people you see this week. You are looking at the Jesus of Christmas present.

MT. MORIAH

December 1 was the first Sunday of advent. The candle of hope was lit by the Bobby Ammerman Family. The congregation then sang the first verse of the advent carol "One Candle is Lit." The sanctuary of the church is beautifully decorated as we celebrate the coming of the Christ Child. We, hank Carlena Caldwell, Jo Craig, Carol Caldwell, and Myron Doan for their work in decorating the sanctuary.

Our poinsettia tree was built on Friday night with potted poinsettias. These poinsettias are given in memory of deceased loved ones and in honor of friends and relatives.

We have "praise" for the recovery of the unborn twin baby of Charity and Marcus Oldendick. We also are thankful that Levi Wolfe is much improved.

Our sympathy is extended to the family of Dennis Biddle. Dennis' father, Charlie, is our Sunday morning greeter at Mt. Moriah. We also extend sympathy to the family of Ruby Simpson. Ruby was a member of Mt. Moriah for many years before becoming a member of the Falmouth Christian Church.

Serving communion to shut-ins during the month of December will be Brent Moore and Jackie Thomas.

"In the desert, prepare the way for the Lord." Isaiah 40:3

NEW ZION

Come join us for worship and Christian fellowship. Sunday school begins at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and evening worship starts at 6:30 p.m. Bible study is at 7 p.m. on Wednesdays.

Upcoming events: There will be a presentation of the kids Christmas Play and the Year in Review during the morning service on December 15; and the Sharing Circle will meet at 6 p.m. on December 20. Don't forget to bring an ornament for the ornament exchange.

"For the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with the trump of God and the dead in Christ shall rise first:" I Thessalonians 4:16. Glory, glory, glory!

Please remember in prayer Bill and Alice Brown, Owen Collins, John Cochran, Lou Johnson, Gina Hale, David Hale, Lisa Powell and the Biddle and Downie families. Also pray for our country and its leaders.

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN

Our "Walk Through Bethlehem" has been such a success. It has blessed our OCC folk as well as our visitors. It helps us understand the true Christmas season.

Plan to go see Kincaid Regional Theatre's musical, "It's a Wonderful Life." You can call the office, 859-654-2636, for dates and times.

OCC's Christmas Caroling will be December 15, meeting at church at 4 p.m.

Prayer concerns include Tom Askin, Louise Browning, Bryant Brown, Ann Ammerman, Evan Lloyd Brown, Garry Cordray (heart surgery), Bro. Don Weaver, Billy Pugh, Patty Wolfe, Donna Peoples, Debbie Viers, A.J. Sanders, Jill Stair, Martha Meyer, Patty Groneck, Audrey Ramsey (tests), Greg Ramsey, Robert Hall, baby Lane Hartzel, Steve Green, Teresa Barnard, Jerry Booth, Eudell Hall, shut-ins, armed forces and our leaders.

PLEASANT RIDGE

Welcome to our guests on Sunday. Rodney and Beth Bowman from Maine. Richard and Debbie Ely.

We have been invited to attend the Christmas program at 6:30 p.m., December 8 at Florence Baptist.

Bro. Rick's message was from Proverbs 21:2. Every way of a man is right in his own eyes. But the Lord weighs the heart. We like to think we are doing good. But we can't judge the heart. God can and does examine the heart. Do we live in joy of our salvation or do we take steps back. Is your heart ready to be weighed? If not what will you do on the day the Lord sets up the final scale.

A man is known by his actions. An evil man lives an evil life, a good man lives a godly life.

Sunday evening Bible study is in Genesis.

SOUTHSIDE

Brother Kenny Allender, worship leader, led the congregation with the opening hymn, "Great Is The Lord" on December 1. Brother Clay Sullivan preached the sermon, "Christmas Courage: The Story of Joseph" from Matthew 1:18-25. The memory verse for the week comes from Romans 8:31, "What, then, shall we say in response to this? If God is for us, who can be against us?"

Southside Church of Christ will be having Christmas Eve service at 7 p.m. on December 24, 2013. We invite you to come. Jesus is the reason for the Christmas season!

Be in prayer for all in one way or another. Come and worship with us this Sunday: 9 a.m.; Sunday school; and 10 a.m. worship service. Have a great day!

TRINITY

Praise God we served over 400 meals for Thanksgiving, we give Him the glory that He provided everything.

Trinity is having a Christmas Cantata during Sunday morning December 22 at 10:45 a.m. Everyone is invited. Bring a friend. Come watch us!

Candlelight services at 9 p.m., December 24. Special music, and a guest speaker Derek Browning.

Walk through Bethlehem experience the life in Bethlehem as it was when Jesus was born. Tours being held at Oakland Christian Church on December 7 and 8. Begin in sanctuary with music.

Sunday school is at 9:30 a.m., morning worship at 10:45 a.m. and eve worship/Youth at 6:30 p.m.

Trust in God and have faith in Him. Remember, everything happens for your own good. So, expect the best to happen and you will always be content and satisfied. In the words of Oliver Cromwell, "Put your trust in God; but be sure to keep your powder dry."

TURNER RIDGE

December 1 the Harris Family lit the first Advent Candle - Hope, followed by the choir singing "Bow At the Manger" and the congregation bringing their offering for the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering to the manger at the altar. This will be collected all month for International missions.

Bro. Dale led the children's message "The Quiet Game" and told of Zaccarius not believing what the angel had told and how he couldn't speak until after his son had been named. Grant Brown read scripture - Matthew 28:19-20 and the choir sang "Share His Love."

Our guest speaker was Karen Sue Wright, a 30-year veteran missionary serving in Chile, South America. She spoke to us about her work serving the Lord and what the money is used for that we give to the Lottie Moon Christmas Offering. Hope to see you Sunday!

A Sure-Fire Family Favorite Slow Cooked Pot Roast

"Both my sons love this!"

Slow cooker recipes have become popular again, and I couldn't be happier. It's just so easy to make a wonderful family meal.

And Teresa Jacobson's Family Favorite Slow Cooked Pot Roast is a slow cooker recipe your family will love. The addition of creamed soup makes a wonderful gravy. On a cold winter's night, this is a perfect dinner.

See step-by-step photos of Teresa's recipe plus thousands more from home cooks nationwide at: www.justapinch.com/potroast

You'll also find a meal planner, coupons and chances to win! Enjoy and remember, use "just a pinch"...

Family Favorite Slow Cooked Pot Roast

What You Need

- 1 chuck roast (2-4 pounds)
- 2 can(s) cream of chicken soup (10.75 oz. each)
- 3-6 oz baby carrots
- 4 oz sliced mushrooms
- 2 russet potatoes, cut into spears (opt.)

Directions

- Place all ingredients into crock-pot. Do not add water!
- Cook on high for 5-6 hours or on low for 8 hours.
- If desired, skim off any fat.
- If necessary, after removing meat and veggies, whisk in a tablespoon of flour to gravy to thicken it.
- We love this served with mashed potatoes.

Cold-weather horse nutrition

Winter is officially here. Consider yourselves lucky that your horses don't have to deal with temperatures that consistently dip into the negative digits. However, do you consider your horse's nutritional needs and how they change even with mild Kentucky winters? Here are some ideas to consider when feeding your horses this winter.

The first thing every horse owner should do is assess your horses' body condition scores, or the amount of fat they are carrying. This is simple numeric system, ranging from 1 to 9 that will help you adjust your horses' diets so they are carrying the perfect amount of body weight. If you need help with this, the University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service published a fact sheet titled, "Condition Scoring Your Horse," and you can contact someone here at the Pendleton county office to look for ASC-145. Using this system will help you keep feed costs down and your horses' health and well-being in top shape.

No matter your horses' body condition scores, one of the most important aspects of feeding horses during the winter is being able to provide a source of good-quality forage. Without question, this is a difficult task considering the current availability of affordable, good-quality hay. But unless you have a well-planned rotational grazing system in place and have stockpiled forage that will last until spring, purchasing hay is essential. Square or round bales are perfectly acceptable when correctly managed; however, you will have a better idea of how much hay your horses are eating when providing them with square bales on a daily basis.

Unless you are raising broodmares or growing horses, most horses should be fed at least 50 percent of their total daily diet as forage. For an average 1,000-pound horse fed at 2 percent body weight per day, that would be at least 10 pounds of hay per day. In addition to providing nutrients, hay also supplies heat to the horses through the digestive process.

It's best to provide hay in some sort of feeder when you are group feeding your horses outside. In most situations, a hay feeder will reduce the amount of wasted hay by 20 percent or more. Horse owners have a couple of other forage alternatives to hay such as hay cubes or complete feeds that contain a high level of fiber, such as beet pulp. These may be more expensive in the long run, but offer another way to provide a source of fiber to your horses.

If your hay is of high-nutritive value and your horses are maintaining their body condition scores throughout the winter, you may not have to provide a source of grain at all. However, if your horses are not meeting their nutritional needs with hay alone, you can add grain to their diet. Remember, grain should supplement a horse's diet as a majority of their nutrient needs should be met by the forage source.

Water is an essential nutrient that you need to monitor very carefully during the winter months. In general, horses tend to increase their consumption of water when consuming more dry matter or harvested forages. But, they tend to not want to drink really cold water. Therefore, it's important to make sure you provide fresh water daily on a free-choice basis. When the temperature dips into the 30s and below, water tanks may freeze up. Be sure to check them at least twice a day and break the ice up if needed so the horses can drink. You can also install a water tub or bucket heater to keep the water from freezing. When installed properly and monitored closely, these can be helpful tools to keep fresh water available at all times for your four-legged friends.

Make sure you especially monitor older horses that have trouble keeping weight on during the year. They may need some special attention to keep them in good weight throughout the winter.

Using these simple tools can help you and your herd make it through the winter in good health and body condition. If you have questions about your horses' diet, contact the Pendleton County Cooperative Extension Service.

Cover Crop Seed Cost Share Program ending on Dec. 31

The Pendleton County Conservation District Cover Crop Seed Cost Share Program will end on December 31, 2013.

The Conservation District will pay 50% of the total cost of cover crop wheat or rye seed, with a maximum of $100 per landowner.

Bring your dated receipt made out to you to our office and fill out a short application, that's all you have to do. The Board of Supervisors meet on the third Tuesday evening of each month and when they approve your application, a check will be mailed to you.

Cover crops benefit both the soil and the subsequent nitrogen, recycle nutrients, provides grazing, reduces compaction, suppress weeds and pests, utilize excess soil moisture and improves water infiltration. Remember, to be in compliance with your FSA (Food Security Act) Conservation Plan, you must sow a cover crop. Remember, December 31 is the last day that you can bring in your receipt and apply for this cost share program.

Our office is located in the USDA Service Center at 814 U.S. 27 South, Falmouth, KY 41040.

All programs by the Pendleton Conservation District is provided on a nondiscriminatory basis.

Farm to School Programs growing across Kentucky

Farm to school programs are a great way to get local foods into the tummies of some school children who otherwise wouldn't have access to them. These programs help children learn where their food comes from while providing them with important nutrients. They also are beneficial to local producers who now have another outlet to sell their products and, as a result, can help stimulate local economies.

In 2010, the Healthy, Hunger-Free Kids Act established a formal program within the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The program assists eligible schools, through grants and technical assistance, in implementing farm to school initiatives to improve access to local foods. In order to establish realistic goals with regards to increasing local foods in schools, the USDA conducted a nationwide Farm to School census in spring 2013. The census asked all U.S. public school districts about their farm to school activities during the 2011-2012 school year. The results are now available and encouraging to farm to school advocates in the state.

In Kentucky, 58 public school districts, or 44 percent of the respondents, have active farm to school initiatives. These districts include about 763 schools and an estimated 349,011 children. These school districts spent more than $1.2 million on local foods during the 2011-2012 school year, which is money that stayed in local communities. The most common foods purchased by Kentucky's school districts were fruits, followed closely by vegetables. For 44 schools, fresh produce offered on cafeteria menus came directly from school gardens.

An additional 19 percent of Kentucky school district respondents said they plan to start a farm to school program in the future.

The University of Kentucky Cooperative Extension Service is a strong supporter of farm to school programs. Extension food and nutrition educators served on the state's Farm to School Task Force, which assisted the Kentucky Department of Agriculture in developing a state Farm to School guide for interested schools and farmers. Extension personnel have helped in the formation of school gardens, connected farmers to school food service personnel, taught food preparation and food safety classes, provided recipes for fresh produce and offered taste testing of fruits and vegetables at local schools.

Through programs such as the Food Systems Innovation Center, MarketReady and MarketMaker, UK personnel have helped producers determine whether their product is safe and marketable through market research studies, sensory studies, FDA process validation studies, nutritional evaluations and numerous educational trainings, among other things.

For more information about how UK is helping connect farms and schools, contact the Pendleton County office of the UK Cooperative Extension Service.

Applications for Conservation Stewardship Program due soon

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) is opening the Conservation Stewardship Program (CSP) for new enrollments for federal fiscal year 2014. Now through January 17, 2014, producers interested in participating in the program can submit applications to NRCS.

The CSP is an important Farm Bill conservation program that helps established conservation stewards take their current level of natural resource management to the next level to improve both their agricultural production and provide valuable conservation benefits such as cleaner and more abundant water, as well as healthier soils and better wildlife habitat.

"CSP encourages landowners who are already implementing conservation on their land to take a comprehensive look at their resource concerns and adopt new conservation activities that can go even further to conserve natural resources and increase the productivity of their operations," said Jack Kuhn, acting state conservationist for the NRCS in Kentucky.

Kuhn said today's announcement is another example of USDA's comprehensive focus on promoting environmental conservation and strengthening the rural economy, and it is a reminder that a new Food, Farm and Jobs Bill is pivotal to continue these efforts. CSP is now in its fifth year and so far, NRCS has partnered with producers to enroll more than 59 million acres across the nation, over 160,000 of those acres are in Kentucky.

The program emphasizes conservation performance - producers earn higher payments for higher performance. In CSP, producers install conservation enhancements to make positive changes in soil quality, soil erosion, water quality, water quantity, air quality, plant resources, animal resources and energy.

Some popular enhancements used by farmers and ranchers include:

- Using new nozzles that reduce the drift of pesticides, lowering input costs and making sure pesticides are used where they are most needed;
- Modifying water facilities to prevent bats and bird species from being trapped;
- Burning patches of land, mimicking prairie fires to enhance wildlife habitat; and
- Rotating feeding areas and monitoring key grazing areas to improve grazing management.

While local NRCS offices accept CSP applications year round, NRCS evaluates applications during announced ranking periods. To be eligible for this year's enrollment, producers must have their applications submitted to NRCS by Janu-

4-H promotes environmental stewardship

We are dependent on earth's natural resources. Everything from the air we breathe, to the water we drink, to the soil we use for food production are vital to our existence. Good stewardship is critical to ensuring these resources are protected for the next generation.

However, many Americans lack a basic understanding of environmental issues, and there is a shortage of scientists and experts focused on natural resource stewardship, especially among women and minorities. In order to protect the environment, we are going to need a diverse pool of trained scientists to solve current and future environmental problems.

4-H offers programs to help young people develop an understanding and appreciation for our natural environment as well as to give them a glimpse at potential careers in the field.

County programs offered in 4-H Natural Resource areas include, but are not limited to, entomology, forestry, geology, water, weather, beekeeping and earth science. Through these programs, young people can explore the diversity of our natural environment while they increase their awareness of social problems that can be addressed through environmental stewardship, expand their life skills and gain a better understanding of science and scientific methods. 4-H also offers environmental camps for young people wishing to gain further knowledge of environmental issues.

For more information about 4-H natural resource programs in your area, contact the Pendleton County Extension office.

The Amish Cook makes home-style turkey salad

The Amish Cook

By Lovina Eicher

HOME-STYLE TURKEY SALAD

On the Friday after Thanksgiving everyone was home. My sister Emma, her husband Jacob and children, sisters, Verena and Susan, daughter Elizabeth's friend Timothy all joined us for Thanksgiving dinner. I put the turkeys in about 6 a.m. and they were ready by a little after 11 a.m. and we sat down for the meal at noon. We added an eight-foot table to our ten-foot kitchen table and put out 19 place settings. It would have been 21 if daughter Susan and her friend Mose had been there. But Susan went with her friend Mose to Charlotte to have Thanksgiving dinner with his family.

I prepared an 18-pound turkey and a 21-pound turkey but had a lot leftover. On the menu besides turkey was mashed potatoes, gravy, dressing (which I had stuffed in both turkeys), mixed vegetables, corn, overnight salad, express salad, dill pickles, hot peppers, sliced cheese, homemade bread, butter, strawberry jam, cheese ball, and crackers, veggies and dip, pumpkin roll, angel food cake, homemade Reese's bars, ice cream, pumpkin, pecan, and peanut butter pies. My sisters brought some of the food too so there was more than plenty. That means the next few meals should be easy.

The afternoon was spent playing various board games. The day went too fast. This morning we cleaned everything up and the girls are doing laundry now. Joe and I plan to take our horse and buggy to town after I get this written. The boys are hauling manure out to the fields. Hopefully everything will be done before noon so they can all have the afternoon free to do whatever they want. Joe ended up being off work all week from the factory and so did daughter Elizabeth.

This week went by way too fast. Thanksgiving Day is already passed. Thanksgiving is a day to remember what many blessings we have, a time to sing praises unto the Lord thanking him for all he has done, a day to spend with family and friends and make new memories, a day to remember how blessed we are to have another bountiful harvest put up for the long cold winter. Do we appreciate our blessings enough? How often we take for granted that we have plenty of food and a warm place to stay. A holiday such as Thanksgiving Day is a nice time to reflect on all of our blessings but let us also remember to thank God daily. I hope everyone had an enjoyable and safe holiday. May God bring many blessings to each of you readers. A thank you to all of you for your support through years of penning this column. A special thanks to Jean from Ohio (reader of the Times-Reporter in New Philadelphia) for sending daughter Susan the very nice wall-hanging. She loves the horse on there and it is already hanging in her bedroom. She wants to send a personal thank you. May God bless you for such kindness.

For those you who need a way to use up leftover turkey try this recipe:

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon orange juice
- 3 cups cooked turkey chopped
- 1 apple diced
- 1 1/4 cup celery, diced
- 2 green onions, chopped
- 1 1/4 cup pecans, toasted

DIRECTIONS:

Mix mayo and orange juice in a large bowl until blended. Add remaining ingredients and mix lightly. Refrigerate at least 30 minutes before eating.

MANAGEMENT TRAINEE

Job Description: Management Trainee for newspapers serving several regions in the Midwest

Do you love the media business? The Delphos Herald, Inc. is looking for several entry-level management trainees. The right candidate will learn all they need to know to run a community newspaper publishing operation. We are seeking savvy, hard-working self-starters with strong online computer skills, sales aptitude, excellent written and verbal communications skills, and good spelling ability. The right candidate must have great relationship skills and, above all, the competitive drive to win.

Starting salary is $24,000. Our average management trainee has doubled starting pay within a few years. The Delphos Herald, Inc. has locations in seven states and we need trainees to move into management positions at the locations in those states after an 18-month training period.

We offer an excellent compensation/benefits package, which includes most costs associated with relocating to our communities. This job is challenging and, while not for everyone, provides an opportunity to start a great career in the fast-changing media industry.

To apply, email rgeary@delphosherald.com. Please send a letter describing yourself and your accomplishments. Include details of experience from selling ads for your high school or college newspaper to being an officer of a club, scholastic honors earned or winning a cookie sales contest. Our screening process will include: aptitude tests and background checks, including credit history.

Contact information:
The Delphos Herald, Inc.

BAC HOME LOANS SERVICING, LP PLAINTIFF

vs. COMMISSIONER'S SALE DEFENDANTS

ANDREW J. JOHNSON
 MEGAN D. JOHNSON aka MEGAN DEA JOHNSON
 FEDERAL HOME LOAN MORTGAGE CORPORATION

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale the Pendleton Circuit Court rendered April 30, 2013 in the above action, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Pendleton County Judicial Center at Falmouth Kentucky to the highest and best bidder at public auction on December 19, 2013 at the hour of 10:00 a.m. the following described property:
 Address of Property: 340 Ruth's Court, Falmouth, KY 41040

Being Lot #44 of Harold's Happy Homestead Subdivision, as depicted and further described as "Resubdivision of Lot 6 and 12," on the Plat and Plan thereof, filed in the Pendleton County Clerk's office on April 30, 1999 at Plat (Cabinet) 1, Slide 164.

This legal description also includes a 2004 Fortune manufactured home, with serial number FH1N102748R, that was converted to the real estate by surrender of the certificate of title number 033300960006 to the Pendleton County Clerk, via an Affidavit of Conversion recorded at Deed Book 267, at page 621 of the said Pendleton Clerk's office on December 28 2004.

Being the same property conveyed by Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation, by Chicago Title Insurance Company d.b.a. Service Link, as attorney-in-fact, to Andrew J. Johnson and Megan D. Johnson, husband and wife, by Deed dated March 15, 2007, recorded on April 19, 2007 in Deed Book 259, Page 273, of the Clerk's Records at Pendleton County, Kentucky.

This property is being sold to produce the sum of $104,963.01 together with interest at the rate of 6.750% per annum from February 28, 2013 until paid plus late charges, advances for taxes and insurance, and its costs herein expended, including a reasonable attorney fee of $1,150.00 and for any other fees expended for services performed in connection with the defendant's default and for the purposes of protecting Plaintiff's interest in the property and its rights under the mortgage instrument.

The property shall be sold upon the following terms and conditions:

- 1) The purchaser shall be required to pay ten percent (10%) of the purchase price on the date of the sale, to apply on the purchase price;
- 2) The balance of the purchase price shall be due and payable, in cash or certified funds, within sixty (60) days from the date of sale;
- 3) The purchaser shall be required to execute a bond, with good and sufficient surety thereon for the unpaid balance of the purchase price, said bond to bear interest at the rate of twelve percent (12%) per annum from the date of sale, until paid;
- 4) The purchaser shall have the privilege of paying all or any part of the purchase price or paying said bond before maturity by paying the balance of the principal, together with all accrued interest thereon;
- 5) The purchaser shall be required to assume and pay any and all ad valorem taxes on the subject property for the current year, and all subsequent taxes;
- 6) The subject property shall be sold free and clear of all liens and claims of any party to this action, except restrictions and easements thereon appearing of record in the Pendleton County Clerk's Office, if any;
- 7) Possession of the subject property shall be given to the purchaser upon confirmation of Commissioner's sale, and the Defendants or any persons claiming through them shall have vacated the premises by that time;
- 8) Said property shall be sold subject to:

- a. Assessments for public improvements levied against the subject property,
- b. Existing zoning ordinances, statutes, laws, or regulations;
- c. Any facts which an accurate survey or inspection of the property may disclose.

Bidders will be prepared to comply with these terms.

IT'S SNAPPY HOUR

At Snappy we know that too many families are currently short on both time & money. Why not let us help with both? Every Friday & Saturday night from 5-8 PM is now officially Snappy Hour! There is no easier plan for dinner than ordering Snappy's & letting us bring it to your door. We are introducing a brand new line of specials available every Friday & Saturday night for pick up or fast delivery. Check out these very special deals & please make Snappy part of your family plans this weekend!
